After Wild Honey.

The senses of the bees are very acute. By the aid of smell they find the sweetest flowers, and thus the delicate cleanliness of the hive is preserved. While certain odors are very attractive to them, others are excessively repugnant. This fondness for certain perfumes is used by bee hunters in discovering the nests of wild bees. When wild bees are seen loitering around, an upright stake, to the upper end of which is attached a small horizontal platform, is planted somewhere near; on this platform is placed a bit of full comb, and in front of it is suspended an open vial of anis, an odor they particularly love. To expedite matters, one of the strange bees is frequently captured by inverting over the flower from which it is sucking a small cylinder with glass over the end. The bee flies up to the lighted end; the lower part is covered with the hand, and the cylinder placed over the honey comb on the platform. As soon as the cylinder is darkened by putting something over the top, the bee goes down to the honey and fills its honey-sac. When fully gorged, it is released; a bee, with its honey-sac filled, always makes a "bee-line" for the hive. When the load of sweets is deposited, the little pilferer comes back, usually with a companion, guided by the scent of anis; both alight on the platform, and are held in mild captivity till they are filled. One is then released, the direction it takes is noted; the stake is then carried to some distance to the right or the left of its former position, and the second bee released. The point at which the two "bee-lines" cut each other is the position of the nest.—Mrs. Herrick in Scribner.

The Death of Samuel Bowles, Esq., the veteran editor of the Springfield Republican, removed from the journalistic profession in this country one of its ablest, brightest and most useful members. The journal which he so long conducted with such signal success and ability, was independent and out-spoken on all subjects, a fearless advocate of the right and always ready to denounce fraud and wrongdoing, no matter from what source they emanated. Mr. Bowles refused to wear the party collar, and hence the influence of his journal was widespread. The country is not flooded with such papers just now, and therefore Mr. B.'s loss will be seriously felt. It is to be hoped that his death will not result in such degeneration for the Republican as that which has befallen the N. Y. Tribune since the demise of the lamented Greeley.

What Spoiled the Success of a Woman's Sermon.

The Rev. Miss Smith had preached to Edgerton, Wis., for a year or more, and was well liked. She was learned and eloquent, and the male portion of the congregation remarked also that she was real sweet. What the ladies said is not recorded. They were waiting, perhaps for an opportunity to say something which would have a powerful effect. A few Sundays ago the opportunity came. The reverend lady, handsomely attired and looking as fresh and blooming as a June rose, tripped into church and gracefully ascended the pulpit stair. The stair was carpeted a snowy white. The lady had scarcely cleared it when there appeared on one of the steps, and in full view of the congregation, a scarlet something, perhaps a foot long, an inch wide, and in shape a charming and only partially completed circle.

The myeterious band was ornamented with a silver clasp, and we understand that closer investigation showed the initials of the Rev. Miss Smith handsomely done in monegram. The lady went through the opening services and finally got well into the merits of her sermon. The attention of the congregation was rivited on the charm on the stair, however, and it is believed that no member of the congregation could have told the text or was even aware that there was any services, or perhaps any call for any. It was a charm indeed. It was a magnet. It was the cynosure of all eyes. It was the sermon that is said to be in stones and the running brooks. One old gentleman saw the effect it was producing, and got up to remove it but the old lady at his side pulled him down by the coat-tail, incidentally remarking in a whisper of much horror: "William Henry, don't you tech it!"

There was whispering all over the room. There were te-hes and a variety of gigles. There were blushes and a great turning away of gentle faces from the gaze of inspiring ones. The Rev. Miss Smith closed quite abruptly, and, turning to descend the stair saw the cause of the trouble. Her face became as the scarlet of the mysterious circle, and stopping with great haste, she caught up and whipped the circle into her pocket. She might have turned her face to the wall and wept because she was a woman, as Mrs. Livermore once did; but she preserved her dignity with great effort and passed out of the church, speaking no word, and apparently a prey to some most oppressive thought. We do not know at what the article was. It may have been a band from her neck, or a bracelet, or a charm from her watch-chain, or a hairpin. Whatever it was it was the cause of great talk and excessive trouble. The older gentlemen of the congregation remarked, with smiles, that it was of no consequence. The older ladies looked daggers, and said it was. The younger gentlemen stared with exceeding inquisitiveness at the wall when the subject was mentioned. The younger ladies blushed and said, spitefully: "She did it purposely, the brazen thing!" All of which reached the Rev. Miss Smith's ears through the communicativeness of some of her dear friends; and she never ascended that pulpit again. She shook the dust of Edgerton, Wis., from her indignant feet, and went out into other pastures, sore at heart and fixed in her determination never to return.—Rochester Democrat.

The Carson Tribune is of the opinion that Mono and Alpine counties legitimately belong to Nevada. That accounts for Deacon Parkinson's visit to the State. He has been trying to cram Mono and Alpine into his little satchel and pack them back with him all the way to Carson.—S. F. Stock Report.

Are We Wrong?

The telegrams tell how Patterson secured his election in South Carolina, and intimate that he cannot hold his seat because of the bribery which he used in obtaining it. We notice the fact because it fills us with genuine alarm. We have always believed that "millions could be expended in a Senatorial fight and no one be corrupted." But here is this case of Patterson, in which only $40,000 was used, and they call it bribery. There must certainly be a mistake in our definition of the word bribery, or else Nevada's Senators are all likely to be kicked out at any moment.

The subject is interesting because of the influence which it ought to have upon the present election in California and our own contest next year. The Senate of the United States, as a body, does not seem to understand how men can be bought and sold like cattle, and is inclined to disapprove of the practice. Now we must either show them how millions may be used and no one corrupted, or we must cease sending our "dollar Senators" to Washington. Patterson did not pay much for his votes, and we are accustomed here to weigh matters in that way; but the Senate does not seem to understand our virtuous standard nor to excuse bribery; hence we submit that a change in our views is necessary. The dollar policy will send Farley to the Senate as Stanford's proxy, and next year will send the richest mine owner in Nevada to the capital, and the only way to change the practice is by voting for some honest man who lives in Nevada.

Mark McDonald does not seem to be coming to the front in Sacramento as fast as was predicted. In fact he is very backward in coming forward. This fact is of course owing to the interest taken by the C. P. R. R. in the candidacy of Farley. McDonald has served his party well, Haight has served the people well, but then Farley has served the C. P. R. R. well, and that makes all the difference in the world. The man who had public respect was the first to be dropped, he who spent his money for party was second and the servant of monopoly goes in.

The Democratic press now want Patterson expelled from the Senate, and have developed new possibilities in the way of abusive literature. We are inclined to the opinion that if Judas Iscariot were a member from some new State the Democrats would labor hard for his support and counsel; having learned once that Judas would not subscribe to their belief, he would then be investigated.

The Stock Exchange speaking of the Senatorial fight in Sacramento says there are "bar's of money to be used, there is lots of purchasable material, but people must be careful how they buy." This suggestion is good, when people buy a Senator always make him understand the terms of the sale, so shall you prosper, and become the strong right arm of your party machine.

Investigations of mine management are now in order. Woodville is the next objective point, and if the Justice reformers succeed no Superintendent will be safe from the wrath to come. Stockholders might do well to look in to the prices paid for supplies on the Comstock and the influences which keep up those prices.

Tilden and Hayes have both purchased farms in Bergen county, New Jersey. They will probably settle down to ranching after Sam fails again in 1880.

Discussing the silver debate in Congress, the San Francisco Call says:

"The feature of this debate was the confidence and decision with which the silver advocates repelled the insinuations of the gold men, that it would not be honest to pay the debts in silver, and the further declaration that the public credit would be injured by a declaration of such intent by Congress. Thurman showed by the New York journals of the day that gold had fallen one-sixteenth since this resolution had been made a special order, and that all kinds of bonds had risen in value. It can hardly be denied that in the first silver debate in the Senate during this session the silver men have more than held their own."

It is said that the Government owes over $1,000,000 to importers for duties illegally collected.

Those Back Taxes.

District Attorney Drake succeeded in getting from the State Controller's office the data required in his suits against the mining companies for back taxes. The complaints are now nearly completed. Some of them state as many as four causes of action. The following statement shows the amount due by the principal mines on account of taxes and delinquencies:

Kentuck	$47,885 99
Con. Virginia	233,207 00
Hale & Norcross	46,735 50
Yellow Jacket	59,745 68
Crown Point	296,664 88
Sierra Nevada	1,835 39
Gould & Curry	11,274 86
Savage	107,769 13
Chollar-Potosi	113,595 25
Ophir	14 801 06
Belcher	398,531 89
Empire M. & M. Co.	6,479 36

A number of smaller claims have not yet been figured out. District Attorney Drake is now busy serving formal notices upon the superintendents of the mines, informing them of the fact that it is necessary to come forward and settle. Duplicate notices are also sent to the corporation offices in San Francisco. As fast as the statements of the causes of action are completed they will be filed and the suits commenced.—Gold Hill News.

A CONDUCTOR'S SINGULAR MISTAKE.—Conductor Herkins' train was delayed half an hour by a singular accident. Our readers may remember our account, a year ago, of the Harlem conductor whose hat blew out of the baggage car door, and who reached for it so eagerly that he followed it, and was so injured by the fall as to be laid up for several months. This same Conductor Budlong was collecting fares Saturday in the tunnel on the train which leaves the depot on the Harlem road at 2:20 p. m. Passing through the last car he walked right off the end of the train, falling on the track. It is very dark in the tunnel, and the rolling smoke made it impossible to see that there was not another car. The engineer soon discovered that Budlong was missing. He telegraphed back to the depot, and Conductor Herkins' train was held back so that it might not run over Budlong's body. An engine was at once sent back through the tunnel to look for it, and it was found on the track. Budlong was unconscious and badly hurt, but it is said that no bones had been broken.—New Haven Palladium.

A FORTY DAYS FAST.—Skeptics who insist that the forty days' fast in the wilderness was a physical impossibility will not be prepared to believe that Dr. Tanner, of Minneapolis, Minn., has lived on water for forty-two days. He states that he was anxious to prove that human life could be prolonged without any nourishment whatever and began his fast under the eyes of an associate physician, who examined him frequently and kept a record of all the symptoms. For forty-two days he remained without food, taking a walk every day in the open air and a swallow of water whenever inclination prompted. On the fortieth day he walked out to Lake Cedar and drank too much water, in consequence of which the action of the heart was weakened so that not the faintest trace of pulsation could be discovered at the wrist. These symptoms soon disappeared, and on the last day of his fast, although he had lost eighteen pounds in weight, he felt so strong and well that he was confident that he could hold out for two weeks longer. On returning to his feed he ate sparingly at first, but soon had to blunt the edge of an enormous appetite. Whereunto, and unto much more of like import, he is willing to make oath and affix his seal.

A WEAK-HEADED PARTY.—A Washington correspondent says: "A quite old-fashioned Democrat from the Northwest—not a member of Congress—who is now here, said to your correspondent to day: 'I have only one fear for our men in the House: I don't know that they drink any more whiskey than the Republicans, but it goes more to their heads. That sort of thing is never safe—except with a settled policy and an administration of your own.'"

LOSSES AT THE CAPTURE OF PLEVNA.—Bucharest, December 13.—According to official returns the Russian losses in the fighting preceding the surrender of Plevna were 10 officers and 142 men killed and 45 officers and 1,207 men wounded. The Turks lost 4,000 killed and wounded, and the prisoners include 10 Pashas, 128 staff officers, 2,000 officers, 30,000 infantry and 1,200 cavalry. Seventy-seven cannon were also captured. The first batch of prisoners, numbering 10,000, has already started for Bucharest.

Queen Victoria does many gentle, womanly things. "I was never more delighted in my life," says Colonel Henderson, "than at one of those charming actions of the Queen in which her kindness of nature and good sense were admirably exemplified. I had the honor of showing her Majesty over Parkhurst Prison. Among the women there several had had children born during the term of their imprisonment. Two days later I received an enormous box of toys for the little prison born children."

Monterey shipped fifty tons of abalone shells to Chicago during the past month, and there are enough shells between that place and Sur to supply the world.

Archibald Forbes, British war correspondent, has come to high honor. When in Bulgaria the Czar called upon him to narrate what he had seen, and Queen Victoria has also expressed her wish that he should give her a personal account of his experience.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The New Furnace.

We visited to-day the new furnace, now nearly completed, and found Doctor Bishop and the inventor, Mr. Creal, superintending the work of construction. The building is situated east of the Reno Lumber Co's yard, and is 18x24 feet, and 16 feet high. The furnace is 14x18 feet, well built, lined with fire brick, has all of the necessary iron work, and is capable of about eight tons per day. The fires will be kindled to-night, when the work of drying out will commence. In about ten days this process will be completed, and then the furnace will be ready for work. About ten tons of ore are now awaiting the furnace, some of which comes from the Buckeye, and some from the Jones & Kinkead mine, at Pyramid. Peavine ore will also be tried, and the furnace thoroughly tested. A huge pile of wood has already arrived at the furnace door, and when the smoke-stack, 40 feet in height, has been placed this afternoon, everything will be in readiness. It is fair to state on behalf of Mr. Creal that he makes nothing if his furnace fails. He has tried several times before, but could never get a fair trial. To use his own words, he has "the Creedmore team at his back now," and if there is anything in the process it will be shown. The furnace cost about $600. Success to it means a new bonanza for Washoe.

METHODIST CHURCH.—Rev. G. S. Allen, of Cleveland Ohio, one of the leaders of the Murphy Temperance movement, will lecture to-morrow evening at the Methodist Church, subject the "Social glass." Between three and four thousand persons have taken the Murphy pledge and donned the blue ribbon during Mr. Allen's labors for the past six weeks on the line of the U. P. and C. P. R. R. Mr. Allen's mode of treating the temperance question is a departure from the old methods. No abuse of the saloon keeper or the distillers is indulged in. Men are urged to take the Murphy pledge solely because it is for their own best interest to do so. Mr. A. comes to Reno highly recommended by the press of the various localities he has visited. Mr. Allen will preach at the morning service.

DOG FIGHT.—Smith, at Schaefer's, has a promising young bull dog who, from his record and his residence in a butcher shop, promises to be a prolific source of items; we have watched him for some time and deem it proper that we should give some recognition of his services, in behalf of local news. To-day he trounced nine country dogs without stopping, the last fight occurring about 2 P. M., and drawing a large and fashionable crowd of spectators, among whom we noticed J. L. McFarlin, Abe Manning and Wm. Stopher. The country dog was buried in a sardine box and another one can be accommodated each day. Reserved seats for sale at this office. Entire change of country dog each day.

TROUBLE.—We are learning very fast that every family has its troubles, and we are loth to state that our own little circle has another affliction this morning. Our affliction is a little girl, weight 10 pounds, and W. A. Morrison caused all the trouble. We are pleased to learn that the little lady has already given evidence of the sweet disposition possessed by her uncle, but Morrison's talk about her weighing thirty pounds, and all that, is simply bosh. Suppose we'll have to put up with it.

COMPLIMENTARY.—State Controller Hobart, (Republican) informed County Treasurer Norton, (Republican) that he had never encountered a shade of difficulty in settling with Washoe county, owing to the efficient manner in which County Auditor Williams, (Democratic) kept his accounts. The fact that two Republicans hold such conversation, enables us to repeat what every man knows about what our County Auditor has done to keep the affairs of Washoe county in order.

FOR SALE.—Attention is called to the advertisement of land for sale. Five hundred and twenty acres in Lapeer county, Michigan, are offered at a bargain. Ample water right, perfect title.

The Eureka Sentinel refers to statistics to prove the value of base metal mines. Peavine take notice.

Quicksilver.

We were shown to-day, a small flask of quicksilver which came from the works of the Nevada Quicksilver Co. at Steamboat. Our informant states that at the clean up to-day about 600 pounds of quicksilver were realized, thus demonstrating the feasibility of the process used, and the profitable nature of the investment made by the Humbert Brothers. The time necessary for thoroughly drying the furnace has lessened the result of this first run. Last Thursday was the first day that the works were in condition to work up to their capacity, and since that time 16 tons per day of the ore sand have been put through the process. Before that time only seven tons had been worked per day owing to the fact that the furnace had not as yet been properly heated. The Messrs. Humbert have a very large quantity of the ore sand ready for working and in prospecting have encountered a deposit of regular Almaden ore. Should this prove extensive, Washoe county will contest for honors in the production of quicksilver, and, at all events, there is a sufficient quantity of the ore sand already described in the Gazette, to keep the furnace running for years. The Comstock market will buy quicksilver from Washoe county and, at the present rate of production, the production in this article promises to become an industry of no mean proportions. So much for the energy of the Humbert Brothers, to whom a rich reward is now assured.

Jottings.

The civil case of Salisbury & Wetherill vs. Hoffman occupied Judge Richardson's attention to-day.

The streets were quite lively to-day. As an emigrant remarked, this is no slouch of a place.

Tom Hymers is going East, so he informs us.

The Creal furnace is to be warmed to-night.

A new process of reducing fractions ore is spoken of. Kinkead has the details well in hand.

The ladies would do well to consult Mrs. J. M. Emerson, fashionable dressmaker, Virginia street.

Sol Geller has some fine sheep and says they are "ready for the knife."

E. Meyer has the finest display of meerscham pipes and cigar holders ever brought to the town.

R. P. Chapin visited the Comstock yesterday.

We hear of still another wedding on the tapis. This fever should be checked.

The first shipment of beef to San Francisco in refrigerator cars will be made on Monday. Two car loads.

C. W. Jones engineered the Chase auction sale to-day. It was well patronized.

Tom Norcross returned from Sierra Valley yesterday, and reports the Grangers of that region progressing.

The fifth rehearsal of the department of music of Bishop Whitaker's "School for Girls," will take place next Wednesday evening.

IMPROVEMENTS.—There is confusion over in the Court House. The County Clerk's office is in ruins, and Deputy Clerk, Mann, is in tears. The old vault has been removed and a door cut through to the County Commissioners' room. This last room will have bars over the windows. The safe formerly used by the County Treasurer has been turned over to the County Clerk's office. When completed these changes will make quite an improvement in the appointments of the Clerk's office, but at present the work is rendering official acts impossible.

OUR WEEKLY.—The Weekly Gazette, published every Friday evening is the best country paper published in the known world. It only costs you four dollars per year and is easily worth ten. Subscribe for it while yet it is time; we think of raising the price January 1st.

The ice is nine inches thick in the ponds in the vicinity of Truckee. The Republican says the ice companies will not commence harvesting their crop until the ice is twelve inches in thickness.

Miss Anna Wright, sister of Charles Wright—agent for McKesson, Robbins & Co., died in Fentonville, Michigan, on Wednesday last. Miss Wright's death causes much grief in a large circle of friends.

To-day's Stock Report.

When the batteries on Sullivan's Island opened fire upon Fort Sumter, Nelson A. Miles was selling dry goods over the counter of a Boston store. His military experience had not got beyond a few months' service in a military regiment, but straightway he received a Lieutenant's commission in a volunteer regiment, was wounded at Fair Oaks, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, and at the close of the war had the rank of the Major General. In 1868 he was ordered to the Plains, and he is now the most successful, if not the most experienced Indian fighter in the service. This week he has been visiting an uncle in Boston, and a reporter of the Traveller has found his conversation bristling with points. He says that to reduce the police of a nation is as dangerous as to cut down the police of a city. The Government now has the hardest worked army in the world—an army that is not large enough for the requirements of the country in any direction. In his opinion, at least 40,000 men are required for active service.

Herr John Earnest Luther, a direct descendant of Martin Luther, a wise and valiant theologian, has just died in Berlin. He was an old man, whose whole life was occupied in peaching. He was ardently devoted to promoting the Froebel system.

A Prose Poem.
With a face as red as a lobster, and back like the shell of a clam, the wife stands over the kitchen stove and manipulates raspberry jam.—Berkshire Courier.
While her husband, with nose like a sunset, and a mouth like the song of a year, leans over a counter of "free lunch," and elevates schooners of beer.—Burlington Hawkeye.
And her daughter, with ears like a shovel and eye like a Florida bean, swings on the front gate with her fellow, with darkness to cover the scene.—Graphic.
And her daughter, with false teeth big as tomb stones, and hair loose as any barn door, sweetly sleeps on a vacant soap box in the shade of an old corner store.—Fulton Times.
And her cousin, who comes from the city, snubs her as much as she can, rocks at her ease in the parlor, swinging a palm-leaf fan.—Holyoke Transcript.
And the hired girl, scrubbing like sixty, and down on the floor on her knees, tells the coachman, who slyly has kissed her, to "behave yourself sir, if you please."—Rhinebeck Gazette.
And the children, out on a vacation, tearing away clothes, hats and shoes, add terror to all her vexations; who can blame her for having the blues?—Poughkeepsie Eagle.
PECULIAR GUNPOWDER.—A hotel in a neighboring village having for some time been infested with skunks, the other night the employees, armed with guns, laid in wait for the pests and succeeded in dispatching two of them. In the morning an English guest, who had been sojourning at the hotel for a day or two, approached the clerk and remarked:
"I rather like this place—sort of rustic, you know. But you have such shocking noises at night—guns and pistols and all that sort of thing. The most peculiar thing of all is that the powder of these guns had the most infernal odor, you know."
The Citizen believes that Arizona will be the next and last dorado of the United States.
